

THE MAYOR'S WALLED CITY TASK FORCE PRESENTS

FORT JOHNSON

1708-2008

CHARLESTON'S
FIRST LINE
OF DEFENSE

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 11TH, 6:30 P.M.

CHARLESTON COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY AUDITORIUM

Built on James Island in 1708 to guard the entrance to Charleston's harbor, Fort Johnson has long since disappeared and its long history has faded from memory. To mark the 300th anniversary of its construction, "Walled City" historian Nic Butler will present an overview of the fort's history, and archaeologist Carl Steen will discuss his recent ground breaking investigations at this important historical site.
